

This is the first sentence of the document, and it contains a reference to the first footnote¹.

Here is another sentence with a second footnote reference².

A third reference³ can be found in this line.

¹ This is the first footnote, providing more detail.

² The second footnote is here, with additional information.

³ And finally, the third footnote appears here.